12 INCH RAIN FALLS IN ROCKDALE

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

On July 4, 1936, the United will have completed 160 years existence as a nation. Our people may allow their mental temperature to rise several degrees when the kid element and others of less than mature judgment, attempt to express national joy on July Fourth by making bad noises. However, there is reason for some celebrating.

It is not often that a nation runs along 160 years without some kind of a revolutionary upheaval. Republics succeed monarchies, and go back to monarchies again. Then when the people begin to break heads in the streets, perhaps they try a dictator, and very likely make a bad matter worse.

But here the old U. S. A. goes plodding along year after year for more than a century and a half, without much change in its system of government. It trusted the people to govern themselves, when most of the world's wise men said it couldn't be done. The people, said these solemn authorities with portentous shaking of head, would make a mess of any such system.

But if the American people have made a mess of it, the mess is no worse than that in any other country. On the whole it is a good deal better than any other country.

And why better? Largely because the men who founded our government were a group of patriotic, unselfish, practical, and far-seeing statesmen. They had a keen sense of justice and took pains to have their government avoid the evils that had wrecked the republics of the past. So it goes on and on, making plenty of mistakes, but none so bad that recovery is not possible within a short time.

Difficult will be the task of the scholar who a century or two hence attempts to interpret the slang of 1936. He will need more than a "Rosetti Stone."

One can imagine a professor in 2036 defining in learned and wrong-headed fashion a "dumb cluck" as a wise woman, because foolishness has been typified by girls that whistle and hens that crow. "Hit the hay" will mean to him an alternative form for "make hay while the sun shines." His interpretation for "all wet" will probably be something like this: "Quietly dignified, having a reference to Still waters run deep."

Posterity will have us all wrong, even as we moderns probably have a topsy-turvy idea of what our illustrious ancesters thought, said and did. Their recorded sayings may have meant something far different from that which we think their meaning was.

How fortunate it is that slang seldom is perpetuated in enduring literature. A modern novel or history or poem in slang would otherwise be Greek to its own author within a decade. A new slang phrase is picturesque, amusing and vivid for a day and then must pass into oblivion to make room for the next day's invention.

Much is heard these days about "Americanism." What does it mean?

There has been a lot of quoting it to one's own purpose.

But there is but one true Americanism, and to learn what it is one need only look back to the purposes and ideals of the founders of the country. Their Americanism knew no selfish sectionalism, no bloc government, only freedom of speech and freedom of worship and equal opportunity for all.

Let those individuals and groups engaged in the work of Americanization first make certain that what they are teaching is true Americanism. Zeal is no guarantee of useful service either to the country or to the Americanized.

INFORMATION GIVEN ON POLL EXEMPTIONS

For the benefit of the voters of Milam county, I wish to make public the following notice, which I have received from Hon. George H. Sheppard, Comptroller of Public Accounts in reference to an opinion written by the Attorney General in regard to persons voting who are not subject to the payment of a poll tax.

"As we understand the opinion, all young persons who reside in a city of 10,000 inhabitants or more, and who have become twenty-one years of age since January 1, 1935, or who will become twenty-one years of age prior to elections during this year in which he offers to vote, may vote in such elections, provided he or she obtained an exemption certificate prior to February 14, 1936.

Young persons not residing in a city of 10,000 inhabitants or more, and who became twenty-one years of age prior to February 1, 1936, should have obtained an exemption certificate prior to that date in order to vote.

If they become twenty-one years of age since February 1st, or will become twenty-one years of age prior to elections during the year in which they offer to vote, they will be entitled to vote, even though they did not obtain an exemption certificate prior to February 1st.

Yours very truly,
Bill Alex Bonds, Tax Assessor-Collector, Milam County, Texas.

STATE TREASURER CHARLEY LOCKHART

Mr. Lockhart is shown standing by the great door just installed at the entrance of the new treasury vault underneath the capitol building at Austin.

Charley Lockhart, State Treasurer, Serves Well the People of Texas; Completes A New Vault To Store State's Riches in Capitol Building at Austin

The following news story is taken from the Childress News telling of a recent visit there by Charley Lockhart, State Treasurer:

"I'm not very big," Charlie Lockhart, state treasurer, and candidate for re-election said as he sat in his automobile on Main Street here Tuesday afternoon talking to old friends and acquaintances, "but I am big enough and honest enough to be your State Treasurer." And the diminutive speaker—he's only 45 inches tall—was making no idle boast. During the past few years as State Treasurer he has handled more than $800,000,000 of the State's money as efficiently as a glib-tongued husband would explain his wife's black eye to his mother-in-law.

Paper Boy

He isn't sensitive about his size or shape, and although he has oftentimes been mistaken for a cripple who makes his living selling papers, "peddling" papers on the streets, or "mooching" dimes, he has gone doggedly ahead, ignoring the sympathies of the people to make as many friends as any other man in the state solely as Charley Lockhart, the man, and not Charley Lockhart, the object of sympathy. He likes to relate with a hearty laugh the instances when he has evoked sympathy from someone he has met, of the time in San Angelo when a banker dropped

Killer Convicts Chased By Local Officers Friday

Luke Trammel and Forrest Gibson, convicts, who killed a guard and escaped Retrieve Prison farm near Huntsville, passed through Cameron Friday, it was reported by Gene Smith, city marshal.

Driving a Whippet car they came in from Temple over the Buckholts highway. They passed the Bob Terry Grocery, drove out the old Maysfield road and came back looking for a highway sign, it was reported. Stalling their car, they finally got it started again and sped down the Maysfield road.

Notified, Gene Smith, marshal, picked up Constable Bailey and gave chase. The bandit car turned off the highway near Jewett and was lost in the Trinity bottoms. City Marshal Smith chased the machine but never caught sight of it.

On Saturday morning the convicts

Child Heroes of Old Days, If Known Now Would Break Down Juvenile Delinquency Says Famous Judge of Chicago Boys Court

If such glamorous figures as Daniel Boone, Kit Carson and Buffalo Bill were still the heroes of adolescent boys, juvenile delinquency problems would in a large measure be solved.

This is the opinion of Judge J. M. Braude, Widely known jurist of the Chicago Boys' Court and authority on juvenile problems.

"On modern adolescents the change in games and play from the swashbuckling chivalry of the past to the gangster's sneaking cowardice of the present has had marked effect," Judge Braude told members of a sportsmen's meeting at the Twelfth National Out-Door Life Show.

"All too frequently the habits formed in such play turn into more dangerous channels and the embryo criminal is on his way.

One of the remedies, the jurist holds, is outdoor play that stresses these "open-space" virtues of honesty, self reliance and chivalry, thru such games as cowboys and Indians scouting and exploring, and as great a contact with nature as possible. They will provide the youngster with an entirely new set of ideals in which life's worth while, rather than its cunning and sinister qualities, are impressed.

"We can do a majog job in changing this condition if we encourage our youngsters in changing from this gangster play to those older games centering around the romance and bravery of the open," said the Judge.

"By such simple means as play and games can we bring about changes impossible through the wisest legislation and judicial action."

FIREMEN TO RESCUE AS WATERS ENTER HOMES

Rockdale firemen answered an alarm at 2 p. m. Wednesday and prepared to rescue sleeping occupants of homes along Ham Branch in the southern section of the city as flood waters rose rapidly and swept thru a wide area of the residential section.

A report to the Herald at 11 a. m. said that 12:15 inches of rain fell in the deluged city between 12 and 2 a. m. Wednesday. Waters rose so rapidly along the stream that people fled their homes. Considerable property damage is reported.

A gasoline station of the Gulf Refining Company in the path of the waters was badly damaged as was the Sinclair Station a short distance away. Twenty feet of the dump of the Missouri Pacific lines was washed away and the tracks of the Southern Pacific Lines were also washed out and Rockdale was without rail service.

Water in the little creek that spread terror in the early hours of the morning was believed to have reached an all time high being 8 inches above the crest of the 1921 flood.

It was reported that Brushy Creek was at overflow stage and the San Gabriel River was also rising rapidly. Little River at Cameron was fast spreading over the bottoms at noon Wednesday. It first broke over its banks at 7 a. m. Only three inches of rain had fallen in Cameron up to noon Wednesday.

LITTLE RIVER IS AT FLOOD STAGE

Little River was overflowing its banks along a wide sweep of its winding channel across Milam County as early as 7 a. m. Wednesday. By noon the waters had risen rapidly and although indications earlier in the day were that bridges and roads through the bottom would be impassable, it was believed the waters were local in their origin.

A long distance call to Belton made for readers of the Herald revealed that only a little more than one inch had fallen there. Temple reported 1 inch Tuesday night. Rockdale had 12:15 inches but the waters there turn east because the streams are beyond the Milano uplift. Waters from Brushy Creek and the San Gabriel River were flowing rapidly into the channel of Little River and the flood stage was anticipated within the next 24 hours although it was believed the rise would not reach anything like the previous high stage.

Along its upper reaches the river was well within banks and the overflow east of Cameron is the result of heavy rains on the Gabriel, Brushy and Sandy Creeks.

"SHOW BOAT"

"Show Boat," with the memorable romance and drama of Edna Ferber's novel—with lingering melody and rhythm of Jerome Kern's music. "Show Boat," with the charming glamor and human appeal of Oscar Hammerstein's play. The 1936 Universal film version comes to the Cameron Theatre Sunday and Monday July 5 and 6.

The picture tells the love story of Magnolia and Ravenal on a Mississippi show boat. Irene Dunne, the star and Allan Jones capture the imagination in these romantic singing roles. Charles Winninger plays Captain Andy, genial river showman. His straightlaced wife is portrayed by Helen Wesley.

"Show Boat" is filled with music and dancing and heart throbs. The popular Helen Morgan, as Julie, sings several delightful songs. Hill Bond Never Fixed at $20,000; Error In Report

In the published account of the proceedings in the case of Raby Hill charged with murder in connection with the shooting of Geo. Richards, night policeman, an error was made in detailing the bond requirements.

The bail in this case was never fixed at $20,000 as was printed. Instead the bail was fixed at $12,500. The case was brought to trial soon thereafter and since that time Hill had been under conviction with a 99 year sentence.

When the court of criminal appeals reversed the case on misconduct of the Jury the bond was promptly made by Hill and his release effected. In its chronicle of this case from its beginnig the Herald was without error and regrets this exception, but gladly makes the correction.

SNAKES RUN LOOSE IN HOTEL SENDING GUESTS INTO PANIC

Owner Is Bitten and Loses an Arm; Poison Gas Kills Deadly Reptiles.

Montreal.—Nine uncaged deadly snakes which had thrown a wide residential district into terror after one of them had bitten its owner, probably fatally, were killed when a police chemical squad flooded his hotel room with poison gas.

In the Royal Victoria hospital here doctors fought desperately to save the life of the reptile's victim, Edward E. Smith of Schrieber, La., an Egyptian snake farmer whose real name is Abul Saud. Despite the amputation of his left arm in an effort to halt the venom's spread, physicians feared Smith may die.

Smith, who gave "special exhibitions" of fighting serpents, was bitten by a six-foot deadly water snake as he tried to clean the snake cage.

Snake "Man" Flees.

He rushed from his room and, leaving the cage and door open, ran to a drug store. Police learned of the case and ordered the hotel cleared of occupants until they could locate Miss Florence Zoda, Saud's assistant.

Miss Zoda was found but when she looked into the room she threw up her hands in horror, saying:

"There are seven snakes in there. They're wild with hunger. What's happened to the other five? I wouldn't dare go into that room."

She added that Smith had been starving his cobras, rattlers and moccasins "to make them vicious."

Panic spread through the district when police, acting on Miss Zoda's statement that five reptiles were at large, ordered the street closed and a cordon of pistol-carrying patrolmen around the building.

Chemists Called In.

A corps of city chemists was called in to launch a gas attack on the room, so Miss Zoda could enter it later to search for the missing snakes.

After boring holes through the door, the chemists poured a quantity of potassium cyanide gas through long glass jets into the room.

A few hours later Miss Zoda entered, gathered up the dead snakes and announced that there were only nine. Smith had sent the three others back to his farm the day before, she said.

Smith's arm was amputated within an hour after he reached the hospital. An attending physician said:

"It's very vicious stuff. We will know in about ten days if he will survive."

The poison causes small hemorrhages in the brain and affects the blood. Smith was said to be nearly blind from the poison.

Showing some improvement later, Saud's first question concerned his snakes.

"If they kill them, I'll never get out of this bed alive," he said. "I can't live without my friends. Those reptiles mean everything to me."

He was not told all his snakes were killed.

Soldier of Fortune Dies in Obscurity in China

Shanghai.—Ensign Sarvin, better known as Count de Toulouse Lautrec, representative of a dying school of soldiers of fortune, died recently in a Russian charity hospital here. He was eighty, and left behind nothing but a batch of 60 pawn tickets.

The giant figure of the ensign was well known on the China coast. At one time he had served in the Imperial Russian cavalry.

The ensign liked to recall the stirring days when he says he was about to assume the empty throne of Bulgaria when Alexander III of Russia put an end to his exploits in that direction.

The picturesque Russian was made the hero of a popular novel by an American authoress after an acquaintance in Hongkong.

As a last gesture for the limelight, the ensign offered himself as a test for Dr. Serge Voronoff's "rejuvenation treatment," but nothing came of it.

Card in Mails 22 Years Only 22 Miles Distant

Rochester, Ind.—Andrew E. Babcock, county liquor board member and former county clerk, has received a picture postal card mailed to him from Peru, 22 miles away and 22 years ago. The card bears the mailing date of March 10, 1914.

The card was written by David M. Fisher, Peru, and contained an invitation to Mr. Babcock to spend the night in the Fisher home when he was to be in Peru on a business trip.

Postal authorities cannot explain where the card has been. The card was clean.

Broken Spine Surgery Aided by Padded Cast

London.—A remarkable feat of surgery will enable William Thornton, twenty, a London scaffolder, whose spine was fractured in a road collision, to do light work soon.

He was taken to University College hospital, where he was fitted with a padded plaster cast which keeps the spine rigid. But for this he would have had to lie perfectly still for six months until the fracture had set, and it would take another two months for him to recover his strength.

Thornton's broken spine will not be set for six months.

Honoring Mrs. Waymond Gresak, a recent bride, Mrs. V. A. Kubecka entertained with a miscellaneous shower in her pretty home on Wednesday afternoon of the past week. The large double doors between living room, dining room and guest room were opened forming ample space for the large number of guests. These rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers from the hostess' flower garden. Merry making began soon after the arrival of the guests. Mrs. J. D. Lewis directed the program of entertainment as follows: Talk Fest, Composite Pictures and Paper Art, in which the winners were given prizes, which in turn were presented to the honoree. Each guest was then requested to write her favorite recipe for the little bride to use in preparing meals in her own home.

The high point in the program was the presenting of gifts. A huge basket (this holding only a part of the shower) was brought in by little Miss Bobbie Jean Groppell and Master John Ritchie Meyer, each making a presentation "speech" to the bride. After all the gifts had been opened and admired, the recipient in a gracious way thanked every one for them.

Lovely cake and ice cream were served.

DR. MARK FRANCIS DIES AT A.& M.

College Station, June 28—Dr. Mark Francis, 72, dean of the school of veterinary medicine at Texas A & M college and chief of the division of veterinary science at the experiment station, died at his campus home at 5 a. m. today.

He was generally known as "father of the Texas cattle industry."

One of the oldest A & M faculty members from point of service, Dr. Francis had been connected with the college since 1888. He had been dean of the veterinary school since its organization in 1916.

Dr. Francis is credited with the discovery of the subcutaneous injection method for producing immunity in cattle to Texas tick fever, a scientific step which played a major role in development of the cattle in the state.

Dr. Francis was graduated from Ohio State university in 1887 and studied also in Munich and Berlin.

On the 75th anniversary of Ohio state, Dr. W. O. Thompson, then president of the school, said: "If Ohio State university had trained but one man in the . . . . years of its existence, and that man was Dr. Mark Francis of Texas, it had given back to its people more than they had expended upon it in three-quarters of a century of its existence."

Dr. Francis, known as one of the world's greatest anatomists, was well known in Cameron. For years he had made intense study of the origin of domestic animals and collected a large part of his fossil exhibits from the gravel beds of Milam county.

New Affiliations In Subjects For Cameron Schools

Texas History was introduced into the High School this year for the first time as information concerning Texas resulting from enthusiasm over Texas Centennial was in great demand among pupils as well as adults.

Home Economics III was added to the course of study last year while Biology was added to the course of study this year in order to give a more rounded course of study for science. This brings the number of affiliated credits to the Cameron School up to 33.

Progressive Democrats Approve His Platform; The Man for The People

MALCOLM A. GREEN

Malcolm A. Green, 34, of Rockdale, liberal, and candidate for a first term for Representative from the 65th District, advocates the following program, which he truly believes to be in the interest of the public welfare: 1. Payment of the old age pension in full to everybody past 65 as the people intended by the Amendment. This can and should be done through steeply increased taxes on such natural resources as crude oil, sulphur, natural gas, carbon black, etc. 2. Abolition of the state ad valorem tax. This can and should be done through a state income and gift tax with increased estate and inheritance taxes. The majority will not be subject to this tax because, unfortunately, they do not make above the reasonable exemptions. He is unalterably opposed to a general sales tax because it is socially criminal in the extreme. By raising an already too high cost of living it simply spells further mass impoverishment or plundering of the poor. 3. A small one house legislature. 4. Public ownership of basic public utilities. 5. An intelligent drivers' license law. 6. Abolition of poll taxes. 7. A minimum license fee of $3 on autos and trucks up to 3,000 pounds. 8. Abolition of tax exempt securities.

The people are sorely in need of genuine leadership in the Legislature as never before in the history of the state. Malcolm A. Green is an honor graduate of the Rockdale high school of 1924; a graduate of the University of Texas of 1927 in economics and the social sciences, where he worked his way through. Later he studied labor journalism and farm problems at Commonwealth College. As a candidate for a most important office he avoids hypocrisy, play boy stuff, backslapping and other forms of cheap politics. He never dodges and never evades issues, makes no idle and empty promises.

If honored with election it will be taken strictly as a vote of confidence or a mandate from the people authorizing him to work for the common good as your Representative unselfishly, fearlessly, and tirelessly. Get behind Green whose heart and mind has always been on the side of the common people—the oppressed and the underprivileged. Support a man who is honest and qualified—a man who will be faithful to the trust because he is built that way. He will be grateful for your influence and vote.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"STONE GIRL" GAINS IN 8-YEAR BATTLE

Turned to Stone and Then Turns Back Again.

Chicago.—This is the amazing story of a girl who "turned to stone and then turned back again."

Virtually saved already from one of the strangest maladies known to the medical profession, Miss Iola Swinnerton, "the stone girl," recently happily directed a party for other patients in the neurological ward of the Cook County hospital—after eight years of suffering.

In the language of science, the disease which has afflicted Miss Swinnerton is called "myositis ocelficans." In the more vivid speech of the laity it is "petrification."

"My trouble began," Miss Swinnerton said, "when I was in Miami, eight years ago, at the time of the hurricane. The doctors tell me, however, that the shock I suffered in that experience was probably a secondary, not the primary, cause of the disease."

For four years after the hurricane her condition grew steadily worse, she said, her limbs gradually growing stiffer until she could not move them—until she could not even lift food to her mouth.

"Then I was admitted to the hospital here," she said, "and was placed under the care of Dr. Sigmund Krumholz. That was four years ago—and it was the beginning of my long struggle back toward a normal life."

For several weeks after her admittance to the hospital her limbs were encased in casts. Her muscles were contracted and stiffened by deposits of calcium, and doctors who examined her offered little hope for her life—no hope at all for recovery from the disease.

But Doctor Krumholz began a long series of treatments, including physiotherapy, to relieve the intense pain and to work out the calcium deposits. Success has rewarded the physician's care and patience.

"Miss Swinnerton is still confined to a wheel chair," Doctor Krumholz said. "She has not yet recovered muscular strength. But aside from this she is leading the life of a normal person. The pain and muscular contraction are gone and she can extend her limbs comfortably."

Loggers and Dam Workers Terrorized by "Ape Man"

North Bonneville, Wash.—An "ape man" who terrorized this small town of loggers and Bonneville dam workers will no longer be able to sleep in his arboreal mansion of hewn planks, because authorities have ordered the tree-shack torn down.

The dismantling orders were given by Marshal McCurdy after the "ape man"—so-called only because he is believed to have climbed a tree—twice escaped from state police who surrounded the tree.

The ape man was reported by two youths who planned to spend a night in the tree house.

A few hours later police staged a surprise attack on the tree house, firing a volley of buckshot at it, but their raid was fruitless. State police said the occupant, reportedly a swarthy, eccentric "Indian" who was noticed loitering near the shack, made his escape through the trees.

Couple Apart 18 Years Wife Must Support Him

Hartford, Conn.—Although he left his wife 18 years ago, she is legally bound to support him. This was the ruling of Assistant Attorney General Josehp P. Smith when asked a true but hypothetical question involving old age assistance. The husband is an applicant and because his wife is able to support him, she must legally do so, the ruling stated.

Stork Proves Himself to Be a Mighty Handy Bird

Capetown.—Storks, coming from Europe in great flocks, are solving South Africa's locust problems.

The storks have acquired a taste for locusts, and this season they have destroyed so many that the government's annual locust campaign—costing $10,000,000 a year—has been suspended.

Pluck Money From Tree

Gooding, Idaho.—Two boys recently didn't believe that money doesn't grow on trees, as their parents told them. They plucked $50 from the branches of a tree here. The money had been hidden by a robber.

A Warm Day for Kitty

The Dalles, Ore.—A frightened cat, suprised by a dog while sunning itself in a third story window, jumped to the street, arose unhurt and fled from another dog.

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lafe, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Thedford's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

Hen Lays Only Eggs With Double Yolks

Warrentown, Ore.—"The double-yolk mystery" is the latest barnyard topic of discussion in this section.

One of a flock of Rhode Island Red hens owned by Mrs. Percy Springay has been laying double-yolked eggs of tremendous proportions for more than four months.

Attempts to identify the fowl have proved in vain, Mrs. Springay said, because all of the hens look alike, eat alike and act alike. The hens are all of ordinary stock.

RELATES STORY OF BEAUTIFUL WAR SPY

Authority Tells How Actress Charmed South.

San Francisco.—In a weed-grown corner of the Presidio National cemetery here, WPA workers a few days ago discovered a small headstone with the arresting inscription: "Pauline C. Tyer, Union Spy."

No interment record could be found and efforts to identify the grave's forgotten occupant failed until the matter came to the attention of Dr. A. T. Leonard, director of the California Historical society, who supplied the answer.

The woman who rests in the Presidio grave, he said, is Pauline Cushman, the exotic Spanish-French actress.

Her entrance into intrigue was a dramatic one, he related. In 1863, she was appearing in a play at the old Wood's theater in Louisville, Ky. Her role called for her to drink a toast to the Union.

Louisville was in Union hands. A group of Confederates offered the beauty $500 to drink to the Confederacy instead.

She went immediately to the Union provost marshal, who saw a chance to employ her as a spy, and advised her to drink the toast.

The following night before a crowded house, she cried:

"Here's to Jeff Davis and the Southern Confederacy! May the South always maintain her honor and her rights!"

A riot broke out in the audience. Pauline was summarily discharged and sent packing out of the city.

After that she was welcomed everywhere, and all the while she used her charms to extract vital information from her officer admirers, and was in constant touch with the Northern army.

Inevitably, suspicion attached to her; twice she was wounded as she fled from death traps, and twice she was found guilty of espionage and sentenced to die.

Each time, her seductive beauty and her acting talent saved her.

She came to San Francisco in 1872 and lived quietly for 20 years before her death.

The surname Tyer, which puzzled those who discovered her grave, was that of the last of her three husbands, Doctor Leonard said.

Rattlesnake Farm Owned by Tucson (Ariz.) Woman

Tucson, Ariz.—Mrs. A Reidy, of Tucson, owns 300 snakes, but that's not half of it—she wants more of them.

The reason is that business is booming in one of the state's most unusual occupations, particularly for a woman. Snakes — rattlesnakes — are figurative bread and butter for Mrs. Reidy, who operates the Reidy Rattlesnake Products company. She isn't the least afraid of the reptiles and says she never has been bitten. Despite that fact she has handled hundreds.

In the factory, she makes everything from buttons to neckties from snake skins. Of course, she pointed out, they suggest their origin, but that is what the public apparently wants.

Additionally, Mrs. Reidy makes buckles, jewelry and odd trinkets from the snakes' backbones.

The venom she extracts from the snakes is about the only part that goes to waste, she said.

Chinese Prisoners Chip In for Airplane Fund

Peiping.—What started with a movement in Shanghai to purchase by popular subscription five military planes to be presented to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on his coming birthday, has now spread over China.

From Szechuan comes word that inmates of a prison at Wanhsien are collecting funds to add another plane to the general presentation. Like most of the other new machines this will be of American make. It will be christened "Prison" as a reminder of whose pennies made it possible.

Privates in the Szechuan armies are being asked to dig into their pockets for the birthday gifts also. It is proposed that each provincial division subscribe $5,000.

Bees Kill 2 Horses

Buckland, N. Z.—Two valuable horses were killed on a farm here by the stings from swarms of bees. The bees were disturbed by a mowing machine passing near their hives.

Give Them Gong for Errors in Grammar

Seattle, Wash.—Bong! And another grammatical error bites the dust. A bell and hammer are used a la amateur hour in C. G. Hannaford's English class at West Seattle high school. When a student, while speaking, makes some statement such as "It ain't so" he gets the gong. The idea was contributed by a student and Hannaford says it is effective in stopping the use of rhetorical monstrosities.

PARENTS REUNITED BY SMILE OF BABY

Scene in Court Room Turns Strife to Sunshine.

Chicago.—Most beautiful thing about the Scriptures is they never grow old. No world will ever grow too modern for the wise words of those ancients.

Take that line—"And a little child shall lead them."

One led a father and mother out of a courtroom into sunshine and future happiness. Moments before they had hated each other.

Little Jean Frandsen is the kind of girl who brings kisses and loving arms where angry tears and shaking fists had been.

Before Judge Justin F. McCarthy in Town Hall court stood an angry husband and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Frandsen, arguing their cases. But is the court all ears? Those bailiffs are playing and lifting and shyly hugging a cute little human bundle, bubbling, love and laughter. It is the child these parents brought into the world.

Gradually pride crept over the face of the father, then a sly smile. The mother beamed, and into two hearts came the glow of love returned.

"The cutest darn baby," said the judge. "Imagine having such a treasure."

"All she does is laugh, your honor. Did you ever see such a cute, happy child?"

"Oh, yes, what were you saying, Mr. and Mrs. Frandsen, about your difficulties — nagging — temper — fists — and—"

"Judge—oh, John, I do love you; I'm sorry; we—"

"It was all my fault, Madeline; I've been a beast."

The judge turned away as John Frandsen and his wife went into each other's arms and kissed.

"Sometimes," said Judge McCarthy, as a man and woman and a laughing baby walked out into the sunshine, "a man has to seek afar to discover the precious things he had at hand."

Woman Serves as Baggage Tosser in Railway Depot

Lima, Ohio.—Mrs. Kathryn Dicks, since 1907 railway station agent at Buckland, Ohio, without a day off for vacation or illness, wants to retire —"as soon as I find the money"—and divide her time between rest on the farm and travel.

Railroading is in the blood of this woman who handles as many as 20 trains through Buckland daily, and still finds time from her duties as baggageman, switchman and telegrapher to keep her cottage home near the tracks tidy.

Her father, G. W. Dyer, was a railway agent at Bainbridge, Ind., for almost 50 years, and Mrs. Dicks says that she was "helping sell money orders and tickets before I could see over the counter."

From the time she goes on duty at 7:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m., Mrs. Dicks' day includes selling tickets, handling baggage, express and freight, throwing switches, serving as telegrapher and crossing watchman and checking cars in yard.

Mrs. Dicks recalls that she accepted her first railroad assignment on Friday, March 13, 1901, at Royerton, Ind. Six years later, following the death of her husband, she was transferred to Buckland.

Thrills? Yes, she says there have been plenty in a life of railroading. One came when a train jumped the track and plunged into a hill near where she was standing. Another occurred the night she was awakened by flames and managed to snatch records from the station only a short time before it was destroyed by fire.

Lawyer Invokes Biology to Defend Slander Suit

Liberty, Mo.—A slander suit involving an alleged false accusation that a man stole some peacock eggs was dismissed here when the defense lawyer pointed out it was biologically impossible for a peacock to lay eggs.

Therefore, it would be impossible for the plaintiff to do what the defendant was charged with having accused him of doing—stealing peacock eggs.

"It's like putting skirts on a man," the defense attorney said.

Coffin Catches Fire

Louisville, Ky.—Just before funeral services for Mrs. Anna E. Bradfuehrer, a taper on her coffin ignited flowers and set the coffin on fire. Before the flames were extinguished some of the clothing on the body was burned.

Gum Causes Wreck

Chico, Calif.—Trying to open a stick of chewing gum while driving near here, John Nopel lost control of his automobile, and it crashed into a bridge.

Cathedral spires, forbidding needle like peaks which tower 2,115 feet above Yosemite valley, have been conquered again. Four University of California students, members of the rock-climbing section of the Sierra club, made the ascent under conditions so perilous that other members of the group were forced to give up the climb halfway up the perpendicular cliffs.

BROTHER WHALES BLACK SHEEP BY ORDER OF COURT

Youth Does Job in Masterly Style; Stout Umbrella Completely Ruined.

Chicago.—In the opinion of a Chicago jurist there is one language a boy intent upon wrecking his own life and breaking his mother's heart can understand.

A pair of fists.

Facing Walter Kastian, twenty-three, of 4811 South Lincoln street, Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in felony court proved a modern Solomon in handling a difficult situation.

There was a mother weeping and pleading for the black sheep son who has been a cross in her life. On the other side of her, the good boy, Richard, twenty-one, who has remained at home and bore the fruit of good deeds, stood and asked, too, that Walter, who committed a robbery and once served a year in Joliet prison for attacking a girl, be given another chance.

"I Can;" He Does.

"Richard," said the judge sternly, "can you handle this boy?"

"Do you mean physically?" asked the brother.

"That is just what I mean."

"I can, your honor."

"All right then," thundered Judge Hartigan, "take him in the back room in my chambers and give him a good beating right now. If you do I will release him to you."

"Come on, punk," said the brother, while the mother, Mary Kastian, wept softly. "You're going to get it and you sure need it."

And get it the would-be black sheep did. He got it with fists and then he got it with an umbrella. A brother two years the younger bounced lefts off a chin, rights off ears and then when that area had been covered he picked up the umbrella and made the crowning stroke of the session.

Umbrella Ruined.

"This one's for Ma," he said and wham. No one will ever use that umbrella again. It broke in so many pieces they had to sweep it up. Then groggy, Walter Kastian was led back to court by the obliging, pugilistic young brother.

"The sentence," said the youngster to the court, "has been carried out, your honor."

"So I perceive."

Bailiff John Green and Benjamin Simons, 4000 South Paulina street, whom Kastian robbed, watched the beating in a rear room. Walter Kastian came out with lumps on his face as big as limes.

"Now," said the court, "take him away and do it to him often. He needs it. If he ever gets in here again he will go to prison and for a long term."

"Thank you," murmured the mother as she turned away. "You have made my life a happy one this day."

New Device Shows Effect of Drink on Human Eye

Buffalo, N. Y.—A new device built in the psychological laboratories of the University of Buffalo shows that one alcoholic drink slows eye movements. Dr. Carleton F. Schofield, associate professor of psychology and director of the laboratory, built the apparatus of pieces of lumber and electrical devices. It is the only instrument of its kind.

The device shows definitely that the mildest dose of alcohol tends to slow up the eye movements, but that coffee, on the other hand, has no effect at all.

The device looks like an apparatus for torture such as was used in the Middle ages. The subject sits in a chair and head movements are eliminated by clamps and by having the subject grasp a wooden bar between the teeth.

The room is darkened and there are several blank bars attached to the machine. As it revolves before the subject, only the bars are visible. The movements of the subject's eyes are recorded on a revolving sheet of paper by a special camera.

Buried in Coffin He Used as Couch for 15 Years

Watertown, N. Y.—George F. Patch, seventy-six years old, a descendant of Gen. Israel Putnam, Revolutionary war commander, was buried in a coffin which he had used as a couch for 15 years.

Patch, a justice of the peace at Croghan, N. Y., was known for many eccentricities. He never wore a collar, shoestrings or necktie. Land he owned in the Adirondacks was closed to hunters and fishermen, but he invited berry pickers.

Raccoon Under Arrest; Tries to Ring Fire Box

Montreal.—A wild raccoon was arrested here on a charge of trying to ring in a false fire alarm and assaulting a policeman.

Constable Robert Desmoreaux saw the raccoon perched on top of a fire box, trying to ring in the alarm. He tried to capture it, but the animal bit off part of his thumb, and escaped.

After a brief chase the raccoon was trapped on the balcony of a home and taken to headquarters.

Couple Wed in Vault

Joplin, Mo.—Charles Homan, of Tulsa, Okla., and Miss Lorraine Thompson, of Joplin, wanted their marriage kept secret, so they persuaded Frank Armstrong, justice of the peace, to perform the ceremony in his office vault.

Sisters Meet After 49 Years; One Is A Former Resident Here

Mrs. George Richards submits an interesting clipping from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram showing pictures of a former Cameron woman and her sister who have not met for 49 years.

"For almost a half century these two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Spaulding of North Vernon, Indiana, and Mrs. W. F. Whittaker of Cameron, had not seen each other until they met yesterday in the home of Mrs. C. W. Bates, 1215 Sixth Avenue. They are here for a month's visit and to see Fort Worth Frontier Centennial at the invitation of Mrs. Bates who is a niece of Mrs. Whittaker and who conceived the idea of bringing the two sisters together. Mrs. Spaulding and Mrs. Whittaker have corresponded regularly over the 49 year period since their separation."

WHAT BOB POAGE SAYS ABOUT AGRICULTURE

"I recognize that agriculture is the cornerstone of prosperity. I applaud the President and the Democratic Party for their splendid recognition of the rights of agriculture. I believe in extending to agriculture a full measure of governmental assistance at least equal to that extended to any other section or industry. I believe that the base acreage on which benefits are paid should include all land on which cotton could have been grown from 1928 to 1932. The present base is penalizing the man who diversified his crops in the past. I would not deny to any farmer the right to share in government benefits for conserving the soil, but I would alliw the man who has diversified to enjoy the same benefits that are available to the man who did not diversify.

"I believe that any government program should guarantee to the tenant farmer a fair share in the government benefits. No system should make it profitable for a large landowner to put his tenants off and force them onto relief. The government money should be spent in a way that will help the largest number of farmers, and the tenants as well as the landlords should share in these benefits. I believe it is sound for the Government to furnish money on long time and at low interest for the purpose of purchasing homes."

What Bob Poage's Tenants Say of Him

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Throckmorton.

We, the undersigned have lived on the property owned by W. R. Poage and his brother in Throckmorton County, and managed by W. R. Poage, for the past ten years, respectively, and we are and have been the only parties living on or renting said property during such period of time. We are all well acquainted with W. R. Poage, and those of us who have not lived on his place all of the past ten years, have lived in the community, and have kown him. We know that during the past ten years, no renter has ever left his place, except to purchase a home of his own, and that he has not, during all that time, rented one out. We have all signed cotton contracts each year since, and including 1933, with his approval, and he has never taken anything more than one-half of the rental and one fourth of the parity. He has never required us to put more land in cotton than we wished to, nor has he ever objected to us taking part in any reduction campaign. He has given us authority to use our own judgment as to the government program for next year, and has consented for us to sign up for as much or as little reduction as we care to make. He has never charged us any rental in excess of the usual third and fourth. There are always a number of good men who want to rent his places. He lived in this community as a boy, and, we, as well as the other citizens of this community who have known him since childhood have always found him fair in is dealings with everyone. He has not displaced any renters because of the cotton program and now has the same number he had ten years ago.

CAMERON ICERS WIN FROM JARRELL 6 TO 1

The Cameron Icers pulled up their average in the Heart O'Texas league Sunday by defeating the Jarrell Cardinals. The Icers now have a team they are proud of. Durden Wofford pitched a no hit no run game for the first 5 innings. Bridges, right fielder for Jarrell got a single in the 6th inning but failed to score. Jarrell scored their only run in the 9th inning and made their second hit of the game.

The Icers made 3 of their 6 runs in the third inning when Williams and Munro got on bases and Ed Ollie, the ace 3rd baseman, hit a two bagger to sweep them home. Lefty Wright followed Ollie with another two bagger to score Ollie. The Icers made 3 more runs in the 4th inning when Bill Worcester, Burt Jackson and Wofford managed to get on bases and Doug Williams hit a long single to score 2 runs. Wofford scored the third run on an error when the Jarrell catcher overthrew second base.

This game proved Cameron has a good pitcher in Durden Wofford but a lot of credit for his success Sunday must go to the other members of the club such as Potsy Allen and Lefty Wright. Potsy Allen does much in piloting the team to victory at his position behind the bat. Lefty Wright was the star performer in Sunday's game. From his position in right field he threw out three men at first base with balls that ordinarily would go for a it One of these plays turned into a double play where two runners were put out when Whight took Sigler's drive and threw him out at first base in time for Munro to throw Craft out who was running from first to second base.

IN this Community there are many business men and concerns in whose plans and methods we are showing our faith by extension of credit.-

In recent advertisements we have pointed out how we safeguard deposits confided to our keeping and place them at the disposal of business activity through sound loans and investments. We have placed emphasis on our sense of public responsibility in rendering helpful, intelligent banking services to our neighbors. We know our neighbors, have confidence in their aims and find our success is their success.

Neighborly banking that has a sympathetic understanding of the needs of its local Community is one of the foundation stones of the American banking structure.

Monument Erected To Cameron And Milam County

A monument of Texas granite has been erected on a pedestal of native rock on state highway 44 and federal highway 77 for Milam county and Cameron. The monument was placed about one half mile from the city limits by the State Highway Department several days ago.

A bronze placque has the following inscription: "Milam County, a part of Robertson's colony in 1834. A part of the municipality of Viesca, 1835. Name changed to Milam, December 27, 1835 in honor of Benjamin Rush Milam, 1791-1835 who fell in San Antonio. After Burleson and Robertson counties were cut off Nashville became the county seat in 1837. The later creation of Williamson, Bell, McLennan and Falls, reduced Milam county to its present size. Cameron the county seat since 1846."

RAILROAD WASHOUTS REPORTED IN CITY

Southern Pacific lines reported to the Herald shortly after noon Wednesday that washouts resulted from high waters between Rockdale and Hicks.

The Missouri Pacific lines had run two trains over Santa Fe rails thru Cameron Wednesday morning and another train was due in the afternoon to be diverted over the system. Rain of cloudburst proportions fell in and around Rockdale extending southward toward Thorndale.

appeared in Rockdale and again escaped when officers swarmed to the Regal City.

Sheriff Kennedy and Deputy Clarence McCall, went to Rcokdale and took part in the chase down the Palestine highway on Friday.

Trammel has relatives in Rockdale. When they escaped on Saturday they went to West Texas and were last noted in Oklahoma where they kidnapped a small boy and took his car.

LOCKHART

some nickels and pennies into his hat while he was campaigning, of the young man in Dallas who wanted to buy a paper from him, of the Irish woman in East Texas who made him get out of his car and walk around so she could see if he was the Charley Lockhart she had seen pictures of and then remarked once she was satisfied, "Well, I reckon we'll vote for you. Looks like you need it."

Once he rode from Dallas to Austin in an ordinary car with $4,000,000 in a little black bag at his feet in the car. So much publicity was given to the incident that he was afraid the money wouldn't be safe in the State's old vaults in Austin and so he carried the $4,000,000 back to Dallas for deposit in the Federal Reserve Bank. Then he started working on the legislature for an appropriation for a new vault. The legislature came across last September and voted $40,000 for the new vault. It took three months to build it and he admits that it took quite a bit of scheming to build the depository for that amount. "In fact," he laughed, "we spent $500 more than the amount we had."

Saves State $6,000

"We were running short of money," he related, "before we had finished the vault and it looked like we were not going to be able to buy a door for the underground safe, but after looking around we found a door that had been made for a bank that couldn't pay for it. The door wouldn't fit the opening we had planned for it, so instead of making the door fit the hole, we made the hole fit the door. We saved $6,000 on this."

The new vault is approximately 18 by 35 feet on the inside and is 16 feet underground. The walls are 35 inches thick and between the walls of the vault proper and the retaining wall against the ground, there is a runway 3 feet wide. In every corner of the runway there is a large mirror, thereby giving one full vision around every corner in the vault. "Who said you couldn't see around a corner," Mr. Lockhart joked.

"Pshaw," he said when asked about how much the state owed, "there is enough money in the Treasury right now to pay off every penny of the State's indebtedness and still have two or three million dollars left. All of the funds of the state are in good shape now except the General Fund and the Confederate Pension Fund, and if we could take some of the surplus from the other funds and put in these funds, we could wipe out these two deficits. The school fund is in better shape now than it has been in several years."

A siren over the highway attracted the Treasurer's attention. It was explained that the Governor was in town for the opening of the new Highway Buildings and that the siren was a police escort for the executive. "Let's not talk shop any more," he said. "Let's go see the governor."

as to bigness, cleanliness and upper quality, it organized entire families to go. They've been doing this ever since, and, no doubt will continue the rest of the week.

The "tilt-a-whirl" has the lead of the rides for adults. Young folks especially take to it. Its sensations are peculiar and abiding. Old folk say it makes them feel young again.

Of the tent theatres, the circus side show, "expose," and the jig minstrels, are best. "Goodman," the strange Ripley "Believe it or not," lets an auto loaded with passengers, pass over his neck and body, and holds it on his abdomen, while reclining on sharp spikes. People throng to see him.

(Children under 12 free.)

A general admission of 10 cents is charged, which admits you to the aerial circus, the aerial act, and the high dive.

Saturday will be a big all-day and until midnight at night Fourth of July program, with fireworks and special performances of all kinds.

McCormick-Deering
No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower

WE are anxious to have all of our friends see the New McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower. We think it is one of the finest pieces of farm equipment we have ever sold!

Everybody who has seen it says they never had any idea that a mower could be built as this one is.

For example: The entire operating mechanism, including drive gears, differential, and countershafts, is assembled compactly in an oil-tight gear housing and runs in a bath of oil. There are four high-grade roller bearings. Operation is so smooth and noiseless that you can scarcely hear the light hum of the sickle!

Special oil seals at the ends of the main axle and flywheel shaft, and the oil-tight gear box prevent leakage and protect all working parts against the entrance of dirt and other abrasive materials. Floating action of cutter bar provides ample play without disturbing knife registration.
